NIFTY FUTURES

"The choppy trend continued in the Nifty and the market closed the day lower by 23 points. An identical open and close was formed today with long upper shadow. Technically, this pattern signals a formation of doji type candle pattern. This is second back to back doji candle pattern in the last two sessions," "The short term trend of Nifty remains choppy with weak bias. Immediate supports to be watched at 11665 levels., Nifty is carving out a narrower trading band of 172 points between 11,796-11,624 which can eventually, sooner than later, pave the way for a breakout in either of the direction which shall result in a swift move post such a breakout.
